GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VII. NO. 102. GREENSBORO, N. C., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1900. Price Five Cents

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING.

Mr. C. G. Harrison Entertained a Few Friends at the Keeley Institute Last Night.

Mr. C. G. Harrison entertained a few friends at tea last evening in the Keeley Institute.

It was in the nature of a farewell, as Mr. Harrison will shortly make his home in another section of the State. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen.

A most delightful evening was spent by all present, the hour of parting coming all too soon.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen, Misses Maie Harrison, Jesse Scott, Ella Ogburn, Mozelle Andrews, and Messrs. W. M. Ridenhour, Z. V. Conyers, E. A. Shepherd, and Dr. Chas. Roberson.

To Wed Tonight.

Miss Josye L. Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wood, and Mr. Edward A. Brown, two of Greensboro's popular young people, will be married tonight at the residence of the bride's parents on Spring street. It will be a very quiet affair, no invitations having been sent out, and only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. J. H. Weaver, pastor of Central church, Asheville. The couple will be at home until January 1, at Mr. W. W. Wood's, on North Spring street.

Parmelee Library Scheme.

Mr. R. B. Clarke, the organizer of the Parmelee Libraries, is still in the city. The notice of his work printed some days ago has given rise to a good deal of inquiry and he thinks he will soon have enough subscriptions to insure a library. The plan is for a circulating library, of not more than fifty members nor less than thirty. Each membership costs $3 for ten years, and 25 cents per quarter for the librarian. Each library gets the use of fifty books each quarter, which are then sent elsewhere and new ones brought.

Mr. Morris Doesn't Like the Cornshellers.

Mr. John R. Morris, who is well known as one of the foremost writers of North Carolina—ranked by Dr. Kingsbury as one of the half dozen greatest North Carolinians—is spending the day in the city. In conversation this morning with an admirer of his writings, Mr. Morris said that the only objection he had to the present day newspapers lay against the cornshellers—Merganthalers—that they use in setting up matter. He likes the old time hand composition. The corn shellers are not careful enough.

Game Will be Called at 3.—Racing to Help Out.

The Oak Ridge-Guilford football contest on Thanksgiving day will come off at the Central Carolina Fair grounds. There will also be some races to help out the occasion. Admission will be fifty cents.

A special train will be run, leaving the depot at 2:30 sharp. The game will be called at 1 o'clock. The round trip fare on the railroad will be fifteen cents.

Missionary G. W. Greene to Lecture.

Missionary Geo. W. Greene will speak in the West Washington Street Baptist church tomorrow evening on the conditions in China at present. Mr. Greene has just returned from the Celestial Empire, after a residence of some eight or ten years, and knows whereof he speaks. His lecture will be very instructive.

Negro Girl Fined.

A little daughter of Mr. P. R. Hines, who lives in the eastern part of the city, was thrown off the sidewalk yesterday afternoon as she was going from school, by a larger negro girl. The latter was arrested on a warrant and brought before the mayor this morning and fined $2.50.

Gave the Sexton a Purse.

Just before the opening of the session of Conference last night a collection was taken for the sexton of the church, he having been very faithful in attending to the wants of the Conference. The congregation responded with liberality. A tidy sum was raised.

It seems queer that the more weight a man gains the more ungainly he becomes.

THE FIVE AND TEN CENT OPENING.

A Rush of Visitors Crowded the Store All the Afternoon and Evening—Great Crush This Morning When the Doors Were Open—The Crowds Let in in Sections.

The new five and ten cent store to be operated in this city at the Hendrix old stand, was open for inspection for the first time yesterday afternoon and evening. It had a rush of visitors from two in the afternoon till ten or eleven o'clock at night. No goods were sold, but it appeared as if the visitors were spotting the articles they wished to rush for when the store should be open for trade.

The store presented a real pretty appearance. A negro string band situated in the rear kept music going and the crowds seemed to be real happy in looking at the trinkets, talking to each other, and anticipating the bargains that would be theirs.

But the crowd last night was not a circumsiance to that of this morning when the store opened for business. Long before the hour of opening, the sidewalk was blocked. The crowd was let in in sections. A store full entered at once and then the doors were closed till it had finished shopping and passed out the back door.

One lady of the city, sixty-five years of age, was one of the earliest customers. She bought $8 worth of ten cent articles.

Of course, when the novelty wears off people will find that they were carried away by the enthusiasm of the moment and the desire for bargains. It is noticeable, too, that a large part of the crowd was composed of people in such circumstances in life as would preclude the idea that they needed a special bargain in a ten cent article. The eagerness with which they rushed in must have been a psychological effect.

Long Distance Phone at King's.

The long distance Bell telephone station, which, since the office was opened here, has been at Grissom & Fordham's drug store, has been moved to King Bro's. tobacco store. Connection is made with all large places North and South.

MONKEY ACTS LIKE A MAN.

Almost Human Intelligence Displayed by an Orang-Outang in Indiana.

Prof. V. P. Wormwood, the oldest animal trainer in the United States, and who was connected with the Cincinnati zoological gardens years ago, is now teaching a dog and monkey school in Kokomo, Ind., says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"Murphy" is the name of the oldest and best trained orang-outang in his collection. When Murphy retires at night he removes his clothing, hanging the garments on hooks beside the bed. When he gets too warm he arises and pulls off his night shirt, and returns to bed with only such apparel as nature provided him. On the contrary, if he is too cold, he goes to the clothing chest for another quilt, which he spreads over the couch with as much care and skill as the most proficient chambermaid.

He uses his knife, fork, spoon, napkin and finger bowl at his meals and smokes a briarwood pipe. He has no use for cigarettes or cigars. Speaking of Murphy's intellectual face, Prof. Wormwood said:

"The flatness peculiar to a monkey's head is changed with training. After a few months' education and contact with human society the face grows less and less elongated, and the top of the head or forehead rises perceptibly."

There are several athletes in their monkey school, and the gymnasium is their favorite exercise. Every day they put on the mitts and give a realistic prize fight of several rounds with their own people as seconds and timekeepers. The monkeys have been taught the art of housekeeping, preparing dinner for visitors, waiting on table, etc. They do a fine military drill, and understand the manual of arms to perfection.

"Mamie wouldn't sing for us because she wanted to be teased." "And did you tease her?" "Oh, terribly! We didn't ask her again."—The King.

The Pace.—"Misfortune always travels fast." "That's right; the more rapid the pace a fellow goes, the quicker it overtakes him."—Philadelphia Record.

Father—"Who prepared this pudding?" Mother (looking at her daughters in succession)—"I mustn't tell—the author desires to remain anonymous."—Meggendorfer Blaetter.

THE LAST QUESTION OF ALL.

WHERE THE PREACHERS WILL LABOR THIS YEAR.

Appointments Read Last Night—Not so Many Changes as Usual—The Bishop Takes Full Responsibility for All of Them—Mr. Ireland's Speech Last Night. The Afternoon and Night Sessions.

The afternoon session of the fifth day of Conference convened at 3 p. m. yesterday, Rev. James Atkins in the chair. Religious exercises were conducted by Rev. G. W. Ivey.

The minutes of the morning session were read and approved.

The Committee on Church Property made report which was adopted.

The report of the Committee on District Conference Records was read by G. T. Rowe, and adopted.

The name of P. L. Groome was referred to the Committee on Conference Relations for the supernumerary relation.

Dr. James Atkins addressed the Conference on the mission question.

The report of the Board of Missions was read by Rev. J. E. Gay, Secretary.

J. C. Smith was made a member of the Board of Missions in place of M. O. Sherrill, resigned.

The board requested the appointment of Rev. W. L Grissom as Missionary Secretary.

Mrs Lucy H. Robertson was introduced and made a strong appeal for the furtherance of Home Mission work.

The address by Charles H. Ireland was earnest and full of good thought. His heart is in hearty accord with all the work of the church. And his desire is that the laymen may so be worked upon by showing them such sympathy and concern for them that they may be won to earnest workers themselves. He thought the church should be as careful in looking after its members as these societies are. Report adopted.

P. L Groome granted supernumerary relation.

Report of the Committee on Sabbath Observance was read by W. H. Willis. This report was adopted. This report, among other things, condemned Sunday newspaper work.

At the meeting of the Conference Brotherhood Rev. J. H. Weaver and H. F. Chreitzberg were re-elected President and Secretary, respectively. Several new members were received into the Brotherhood. The Conference adjourned with the benediction by Rev. J. H. Weaver.

NIGHT SESSION.

Conference met last night at 7:30 o'clock, Bishop Morrison in the chair. Rev. T. A. Boone conducted the religious exercises. The secretary read the minutes of the afternoon session which were approved. Resolution of thanks to Greensboro for its generous hospitality, to the ministers of other churches for their fraternal spirit and to the Greensboro Female College for the delightful entertainment given the Conference by the classes of music and elocution.

The minutes of the afternoon session were read and approved.

It was ordered that when the Forty-sixth question is answered that the Conference will stand adjourned.

Before reading the appointments the venerable Rev. Geo. W. Ivey led in a fervent prayer after the singing of

"Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in sacred love
The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above."

The Bishop made feeling remarks. Told the preachers that he alone made their appointments and not the Presiding Elders. There were of course some disappointments, but this is a part of the itineracy. When the appointments had been made the Conference stood adjourned.

PLOT AGAINST THE PRESIDENT.

Another Scheme of Assassination Said to Have Been Blocked, This Time in Hoboken.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Hoboken, Nov. 27.—A plot to assassinate President McKinley has been made known to the police here. They have communicated with the police at Washington, furnishing the name of the man accused. The police received their information through a letter written by a Frenchman whose knowledge of English is very poor.

Cotton Crop Estimated at 10,175,000 Bales.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Nov. 27.—The average estimate of the cotton crop, taken from 139 members of the Cotton Exchange is 10,175,000 bales. The highest estimate was eleven, and the lowest eight million bales.

Gasoline Explosion.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Pittsburg, Nov. 27.—At 1 o'clock this morning a gasoline tank at Westinghouse foundry in Allegheny exploded, forcing the heavy casting through the roof, and partially destroying the retaining wall, and badly burning four workmen.

Czar Improving

By Wire to The Telegram.

Lividia, Nov. 27.—Judging from the bulletins, the condition of the Czar is improving. He passed a good night.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS TODAY.

Robert E. Door, who has published the Mail and Express, of New York, since the death of Elliot F. Shepherd, died this morning.

An unknown three masted schooner went ashore last night at Longbranch in a violent tempest, so high that the life savers were unable to reach her. Crowds watched the wreck all night.

United States Commissioner of Internal revenue Wilson, died in Washington this morning.

Sir Arthur Sullivan was buried in St. Paul's cathedral, London, this morning.

It is reported at Shanghai that Li Hung Chang is dying. The greatest apprehension is felt, as he is one of the strongest peace powers of China.

Mrs. Rathbone, wife of the defaulting ex-director of ports, was severely injured in an accident in Havana this morning.

Representative Loud, chairman of the Post Office committee, says free rural mail delivery will get an appropriation of $5,000,000 this year.

Senator Davis was still alive this morning, but was failing very rapidly and it was thought he would not survive through the day.

THE HAMNER SCHOOL.

An Institution at High Point That Solicits the Incurable Cases, Promising to Return Them to Health and Vigor.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

High Point, Nov. 27.—The Hamner School of Science and Healing, located here, is attracting some attention among the people as well as causing talk among the unbelievers in the art of curing without the use of physics. Lately a woman who was said to be in a helpless condition, was brought there for treatment, and a few days thence was able to return home "on her feet." Prof. McKnight, who is at the head of the institution, especially caters after the so-called incurable cases, promising the return of health and vigor to the majority of those who entrust themselves in his care. There are now several patients at the school.

Gattis-Kigo Suit.

In the Gattis-Kilgo suit now on trial at Oxford, the evidence of the plaintiff was concluded yesterday. The defense introduced no evidence, relying on that of the prosecution. Argument began at 3:30 yesterday. The case will not likely reach the jury before tomorrow night.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

A SHORT SERMON BY SIMON.

HAVE NOT THE FAITH WITH THE RESPECT OF PERSONS.

The Methodist Discipline Regarding Dress Has Become Obsolete and the Preacher Thinks That it Should be Revived Since the Fine Dressing of Church Goers Keeps the Less Fortunate Ones of Earth Away.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I take pleasure in handing you herewith the following sermon by "Simon." He is one of the able preachers of the Western North Carolina Conference. He knows how to say things to the point. TROJAN.

James 2:1:—"My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons."

And yet who does not see this command of the Lord broken, openly violated in every church service held.

"If there come one into your assembly a man with a gold ring in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment, and ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor; stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool. Are ye not partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts."

We have driven the poor away from our churches by the fact that we dress too fine, especially our women. The contrast between the dress of wealthier women and the poor women is such as to drive them away from church. They are afraid of your cruel criticisms and withering glances. A silk dress and gold ring, an ostrich feather or diamond brooch, will gain more recognition in the average congregatfon than character in a calico dress and modest hat. Even the average preacher lifts his hat to the elegantly dressed lady and drops a scant recognition to the poorly clad sister or the pauper child of the King. Where is the spirit of him who was anointed to preach the gospel to the poor. The flash and glitter of style in the congregation is an impassible barrier to the poor, it is repelant. In vain may you say our churches invite all to come, our pews are free to all, all are welcome. They know better and will not come.

The Methodist people have a rule regulating the matter of dress, but it don't regulate, it is practically obsolete, a dead rule; preachers nor people observe it. This rule was a wise Godly emination from spiritual minds and loving Christian hearts. If we were not blind we could see that in turning the poor from our churches we lose more than we could gain by receiving, in the stead, all the gold and wealth of all the million heirs of earth. Hearken my beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the faith and heirs of the Kingdom which He has promised to them that love Him. If this is true the poor people, the Christian poor, of Greensboro, and such as favorable conditions would make Christians, have the spiritual wealth —and this is the wealth we need in our churches. They can do without us better than we could do without them.

I know a rich congregation that set off its poor suburban membership in a mission chapel and to my knowledge the Lord of glory went with them and that church is spiritually dead today. Listen preachers, listen people of God, "But if ye have respect to persons ye commit sin and are convinced of the law as transgressors," and those who "commit sin" are going to hell. You can't escape the conclusion, and the conclusion is hell with a vengance. There is but one qualification necessary to enter into the presence of the Lord of glory and the fellowship of the first born, and that is character. Let us reform and "condescend to men of low estate."

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Some people are so polished that you can see right through them.

NERO AS A PHILANTHROPIST.

There is always good digging ahead of the man who prospects over historical ground. He is likely at any time to locate a mine, and is always picking up surface nuggets. One Mr. Riis, who last Friday testified before the Tenement House Commission of New York City, has been panning a little in the field of Roman history and has discovered that Nero, well known as the gentleman who fired the Imperial City that the conflagration might furnish him with inspiration for a poem, and then, while the firemen were trying to put out the fire, got his fiddle and played the "Arkansaw Traveler" to help along the inspiration, was a philanthropist. Mr. Riis was asked his opinion of the tenement house air, shaft.

"It's good," said Mr. Riis, "as an acknowledgment by the landlord that the tenant has a right to air and light. It is a nuisance as a drying room for all sorts of unpleasant things; it is an aid to fire in climbing from story to story and an invention of the devil for the conducting of foul air and ungodly sounds. When the air and light space really distributes air and light, it is a good thing. But when it is 'an airshaft' it is a bad thing—as bad as bad can be. My experience among tenements in the city in the last twenty years is that they are better, as far as sanitary condition and general cleanliness are concerned; but worse, far worse, in regard to the crowded condition of them. Tenements are built now with so many rooms and with so many stories that there is hardly standing room in the streets for the children, to say nothing of the parents. The crowds are at fault for more things than I can tell you. There will never be decent government in this city until we limit the size of the tenements Our streets were laid out for houses sixty feet high; they were laid out sixty feet wide. Now, instead of houses two or three stories high, all the new tenements are six and seven stories high. Nero had a law that no house in Rome should be more than seventy feet high. Nero was a great man. He was all right."

As mentioned above, it is commonly supposed that emperor Nero burned Rome for poetic purposes. But Mr. Riis' discovery may turn new light on subject. It may be that the bloody old Emperor wanted to reconstruct the city after his own modern ideas of the tenement, and first had to clean out the old ones. At any rate Mr. Riis' discovery is an interesting one. We shall wait for other news from his diggings.

Says the News and Observer:

More monuments and more libraries in North Carolina are desired to give ambition and knowledge to the youth of the State. Within the past six years two magnificent monuments—one to the Confederate dead and one to Zebulon Baird Vance—have been unveiled in capitol square, in the city of Raleigh, and the doors of the splendid Olivia Raney Library will be open by the first of the new year.

The News and Observer is desirous of obtaining a complete list of the public libraries and monuments in North Carolina, and we are obliged for this information.

The News and Observer will find at the Guilford Battle Ground Park near this city a really fine array of monuments celebrating the Revolutionary war period. It will find here the only monument, we believe, in the State, to the memory of North Carolina's signers of the Declaration. More still. It will find here among the officers of the company, backed by the people, a determination to continue to beautify the Park and to place there more monuments until there shall be a complete commemoration of North Carolina's part in the glories of the Revolution.

The industrious policemen of Hoboken deserves to be complimented or having uncarthed another fearful plot to assassinate President McKinley. It is needless to say that the valiant fellows frustrated it.

Died of Old Age at Twenty.

Petersburg, Va., Dispatch.

Fannie O'Kennon, daughter of Peter O'Kennon, died at her father's home in Matoaca this morning. The doctor's say she died of old age, although she had just celebrated her twentieth birthday, She was remarkable from the fact that she had not grown in stature since she was two years old, and her faculties at the time of her death were those of a child. She was only two feet two inches tall, could only articulate such words as she could when a years old, played with picture books and in every way acted as a child. Her face however, was wrinkled like that of an old woman.

Few people are so truthful that they wouldn't care to lie in a bed roses.

No Maude, dear, there is no reason why a blind man should not go to sea.

POROUS BURNING BRICK.

It Is Soaked with Kerosene, and Then Burned in the Place of Fuel.

M. Anatole Brebant's invention of a burning brick is singular and economical. It is composed of a mixture of metals, silicates and various other incombustible and refractory matters, which, in small space and with little weight, imprison a large amount of heat-producing matter, says the Philadelphia Record. The brick is very porous and is used as follows: An appropriate liquid alcohol or kerosene is poured upon it, a lighted match is applied, and the result is a beautiful hot fire. It lasts for a long time and can be extinguished readily.

After a short while the intense heat produced by the combustion of the liquid is considerably augmented by that of the metallic mass. The brick is made in two sizes. The domestic brick, for heating rooms and cooking, weighs four ounces and gives a flame 20 by 10 inches.

The military brick, for soldiers and explorers, is about double the weight of the domestic one. The brick is delivered in a tin box, in which it can be thoroughly soaked in alcohol or kerosene, and is then ready for use.

AN INGENIOUS MINISTER.

The ingeniousness of Rev. Harry A. Handle, rector of St. James mission, Meeker, Col., constantly evolves entertaining features for the old and young, attracting interest to the mission, writes Stanley Stokes of "A Minister Among the Cowboys," in Ladies' Home Journal. He is an accomplished artist and takes photographs for everybody. An immense see-saw, swings and other entertaining features have been erected by him in the rectory yard, where everybody in the town enjoys them. The preacher spent part of his earnings for a phonograph with a set of 50 rolls, which drew big crowds to the rectory, some coming 100 miles to see the wonderful talking machine. Nearly every day when the stage comes in, Mr. Handle changes his working clothes and goes to the hotel to acquaint himself with the strangers arriving, and invites them to the rectory, all of which is unusual and unlooked for on the frontier. And that is one of the ways by which so many people in his parish, which is of greater area than the states of Delaware and Rhode Island combined, have become acquainted with the popular "Little Minister of Rio Blanco," as he is called.

Resolutions by the Vestry of St. Andrew's

At a meeting of the vestry of St. Andrew's church. held November 19th the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, our former rector, Mr. J. D. Miller, has left us to pursue a course of studies at Columbia University, New York city, we, the members of the vestry of St. Andrew's church, Greensboro, do hereby endorse the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in Mr. Miller's departure this parish loses a pastor whose indefatiguable labors for the material as well as the spiritual welfare of our church have endeared him to the members of this vestry and to the congregation.

Further be it resolved, That we regret his departure and sustain for him the highest regard because of past relations and wish him abundant success in his studies and in all his future undertakings.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Mr. Miller.

A GOOD THING.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experiment in medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cts. Thanksgiving Offerings!

This custom was brought into this country by Pilgrims who left Holland in 1620 on the Mayflower. In July 1623 a day of fasting and prayer was appointed on account of the drought. Rain came while the colonists were praying and the governor appointed a day of thanksgiving. During the War of the Revolution a day of thanksgiving was recommended by congress and was observed nationally, custom has fixed the last Thursday in November as a day of thanksgiving. So much for thanksgiving.

THE GALLUP FAMILY

AN EVENING OF ONE SIDED TEARS AND LAMENTATIONS.

Mrs. Gallup Gives Her Silent Husband Some Instructions and Advice About Her Own Funeral and the Wife That Will Succeed Her.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

Mr. Gallup had gone down town after supper to hear the political news, and it was 9 o'clock when he got back home. He had left Mrs. Gallup clearing away the dishes and singing "Happy Day," but when he returned she was lying on the lounge with her eyes closed and the house quiet as a graveyard. He sat down after a glance at the figure and laboriously untied his shoes and pried them off and then picked up the family almanac to see what time the moon would be in her last quarter. Ten minutes passed, and Mrs. Gallup uttered a long drawn sigh. Two minutes later she groaned. A minute after the groan, as Mr. Gallup had paid no attention to her, she sat up and said:

"Samuel, you've come here jest in time. I was afraid I'd hev to go without biddin you goodby, but you are here. You hadn't been gone from the house ten minits when I went to carry the milk down cellar. I wasn't thinkin of death or anything of that sort when all to once I heard a voice sayin, 'Git ready to soar away and become an angel.' You may tell me, Samuel, that it was the vinegar bar'l workin or that it was a-gurglin from the soft soap, but I know better. It was my summons to go, and I come right up stairs and begun to git ready. It won't disturb you much if I die tonight, will it?"

"I'VE HAD THIRTY-TWO FITS OF SICKNESS."

Mr. Gallup didn't reply. He had found the moon's last quarter and was deeply interested.

"I've never bin no hand to make you trouble, Samuel," she continued, "and I shan't begin now. If you'd rather I'd die in the daytime, I'll try and hold on, though I s'pose one ought to die when the hour comes. Mebbe you've bin thinkin that when I died you'd hev to pay out a great lot of money over the funeral, but I want you to know different. I've never bin an extravagant woman, and I kin git along with a cheap funeral. I was reckonin it up t'other day, and I was surprised and pleased with the figgers. Do you know, Samuel Gallup, that the hull thing, from fust to last, won't cost a cent over $30?"

One of Mr. Gallup's eyebrows was slightly raised in a questioning manner, but he made no verbal reply.

"Only $30, Samuel, and that includes one of the best lots in the graveyard. If you wanted to bury me out in the back yard, the cost would be reduced to $25, and I don't think any husband on earth kin complain of that. There are wives who'd kick ag'in bein buried in the back yard, but I shan't say a word. And I've arranged other things fur you, Samuel. While you've bin busy with politics and lawsuits I've bin arrangin fur death. In about an hour from now, when I breathe my last, you'll go over and rap three times on Mrs. Watkins' door. Three raps mean that I hev soared away, and she'll be over in ten minits to take charge. Then you kin go right to bed and go to sleep, same as usual. The funeral will take place the day after. Mrs. Green will lend you 14 chairs, and Mrs. Taylor will pick out the hymns to be sung. Mrs. Jordan will milk our cow and strain the milk, and Mrs. Johnson will come over and git your meals. Are you listenin to me, Samuel?"

If he was, there were no signs of it. He had got through with the moon and passed on to the medical testimonials, and he seemed to be reading with bated breath.

"All you'll hev to do," she continued after a sob or two, "is to move about kinder sorrerfullike and shed a few tears. I've had 32 fits of sickness since we was married, and sometimes you've had to hire the washin done fur me; but, after all, you'll be kinder sorry when I'm gone. You'll remember how I made one teakettle last 14 years and how I allus made the tea and sugar last longer than any other woman in town. I shan't ask you to break down and weep, Samuel, but if I was you I'd shed tears. I not only deserve 'em, but all the folks will be watchin you to see if you are affected. You've got six handkerchiefs almost as good as new, and you won't run short even if you shed tears from both eyes. Don't you think I'm right, Samuel?"

She wiped her tears and held back her sobs and waited for a reply, but none came. Mr. Gallup was reading how the life of a man who had fallen on a pitchfork had been saved by Persian stomach bitters, and his ears were closed.

"As to buryin me in the back yard, of course you kin do as you think best. In one way it will save you $5, and in another it'll take up ground fur cabbages. You'll marry ag'in, of course, and your second wife will want a hammock out under the trees. Mebbe she'll object to my grave. If I was your second wife, I wouldn't object to your first wife's grave, but I'm different from most women. You'd better think the thing over purty seriously. And there's another thing, Samuel. A long time ago I told you that if you ever got married ag'in I'd haunt you. I was mad and said more'n I ought to. Of course I could come back as a ghost and roost on the footboard of the bed and keep you awake nights, and I could hide down cellar and skeer you most to death when you come down after cider, but I'm not that kind of woman. Right here and now I want to tell you that I'll never haunt you nor your second wife. Don't you think I'm purty good, Samuel?"

Mr. Gallup had finished the pitchfork testimonial and struck one where a man had been blown up with a stump, and he was so interested that he didn't hear her question. She wept for three or four minutes and then said:

"No, don't go to any unnecessary expense to lay away my mortal remains, Samuel. As my speerit will be flyin around in heaven, it won't make no great difference about my body. When Mrs. Thompson died, she wanted a funeral to cost $250, but I'm not Mrs. Thompson. You'll marry again, of course, and you'll need all your money to flam out with. Second wives allus flam. Yours will want a new dishpan, new curtains, new knives and forks and as many as three new tablecloths the very fust thing. Speakin of tablecloths, Samuel, I've made the last new one last seven years. I don't expect any praise fur it, but when your second wife shakes one all to pieces in six months you'll see a difference. What kind of a second wife are you goin to marry, Samuel? You needn't be afraid to tell me, fur there isn't a jealous hair in my head. Will she be old or young?"

Mr. Gallup yawned and stretched and thrust out his legs, but he had nothing to say.

"Mrs. Roedecker says you'll probably marry a young chit of 17, and Mrs. Jackson says you'll probably look fur a widder with as many as five cows, but I ain't goin to find no fault in either case. On the contrary, I kinder pity you. Second wives allus smash and break and bust things, and if you say anything they'll sass back and pull hair. You'll be rid of me and my trubbles, Samuel, but there'll be times when you'll sit down on the wash bench outdoors and wish I was back. Yes, you'll acknowledge to yourself that I was hardworkin and savin and that I was no hand to gad about, but I'll be an angel, and you'll hev to plug along the best you kin without me. That's all, Samuel, and I will now die and hev it over with."

She stretched out on the lounge and folded her hands and closed her eyes, and for ten minutes there was silence. Then Mr. Gallup yawned again, looked around and saw her there, and as he rose up to wind the clock and go to bed he observed:

"You'd better turn the cat outdoors and see if the kitchen window is fastened up." M. QUAD.

Latin-American and Pan-American.

The press of the various countries of Latin-America show a cordial interest in the Pan-American Exposition. It is recognized that their co-operation is essential to the end that the Exposition may adequately represent the progress of all the states and countries of this hemisphere. As a rule the editors of newspapers and other publications in the countries to the south of the United States display a very favorable attitude toward the enterprise. B. B. Lopez, editor and proprietor of La Correspondencia de Porto Rico, has become so enthusiastic over the Exposition that he writes to the Press Department that he is about to come to Buffalo to see for himself the progress made in the development of the Exposition. He will be accompanied by his family. Many other editors of the Latin-American press have also announced their intention to attend the Exposition, and inquiries are pouring in from these countries regarding steamboat and railroad routes. Many editors and correspondents from Central and South American countries have already visited the Exposition grounds.

The Government's Building.

The Government buildings at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo are being built by Rasmussen & Strehlow of Omaha. The contract calls for a group of three buildings connected by curved arcades. The main structure is to be 400 by 130 feet, with a dome 250 feet high, and the smaller buildings each 150 feet square. All departments of the government will make up to date exhibits, which the members of the Government board are now busy collecting and getting into shape.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The City Treasurer, on account of the unavoidable delay in the collection of the taxes which were due on the 1st day of October, 1900, finds himself at present short of funds, but by reason of the public spirit and accommodation of the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company and the Underwriters of Greensboro, I am able to announce that the said companies will cash at their face value all interest bearing warrants issued since September 1st, 1900, by the city to school teachers, policemen and other city employees, when they are in the hands of the original holders and do not exceed $100 each, provided that this order does not hold good after $3,000 has been expended in cashing the said warrants.

Applications should be made at the bank counter of the Southern Loan and Trust Company.

HOG PEN ORDINANCE

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen held on the 23rd day of November, 1900, the following ordinance was passed:

Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Greensboro, N. C.

1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to keep any hogs or pigs in the city except in pens constructed, located and cleansed as hereinafter provided.

2. That all pens shall have a plank floor made close and tight, with all the joints closed or broken, which said floor shall be raised at least one foot from the ground at the nearest point and shall be inclined, so that the filth may be easily carried from the pen.

3. That all pens shall be cleaned out at least once a week and lime or ashes shall be used in sufficient quantities to cover the filth removed.

4. That no hog pen shall be located within two hundred feet of any residence, spring or well, or within one hundred feet of any public street of the city.

5. That any one violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined $10.00.

6. That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after the 1st day of February, 1901.

By order of the Board of Aldermen.

Much interest centers about the game of foot-ball which is scheduled to be played at the Athletic Park in Greensboro Thanksgiving day. It is to be a game, not merely of physical strength, but a contest of nerve, and courage, and tact. The two contending teams are composed of men representing some of the best blood in the State. They are young men of sterling worth, and are typical students, for by the wise arrangement of a mutual understanding, professionalism has been eradicated from match games played between schools of this State.

The Guilford team, which will be down Thursday to play the boys from Oak Ridge Institute, has been playing very creditable ball this fall. The following games have been played:

Davidson 16, Guilford 0.

A. & M. 0, Guilford 5.

Bingham 0, Guilford 34.

South Carolina College 10, Guilford 0.

A. & M. 5, Guilford 11.

It may be seen that thus far Guilford has scored fifty points to her opponents' thirty-one. The Oak Ridge team has also made a creditable showing, and will be able to come up to the expectations of its friends in the coming contest. To any one who is interested in athletic sports this game will have a peculiar fascination, in that the teams are so evenly matched and come from institutions both of which are situated in our own county.

Many of the players are well known in Greensboro, as their homes are here. The Guilford team will be made up of the following men:

James Lewis, of Greensboro, will play his old position of left end. He is one of the most successful tacklers on the team and as a result of his guidance and pluck, many an opponent who has attempted to carry the ball by him, has found a bed in the dirt. Lewis weighs 148 pounds. A. Homer Ragan, of High Point, brother to W. P. Ragan, of Greensboro, is captain of the team and plays the position of left guard. Captain Ragan knows the game thoroughly and is one of the main bulwarks of the line. His weight is 157 pounds.

Robert Holton, also of High Point, plays in the line next to Ragan as left tackle. Holton is a tower of strength when his 180 pounds swings itself into position. His chief characteristic is his aggressive playing.

C. M. Short, well known in Greensboro for his running abilities in connection with the champion reel team of the State, plays right end. He has been very successful this season in breaking up interference, and is an all around good player. Short's weight is 153 pounds.

Gray Martin, of East Bend, like several others on the team, never played until this year, but under the rigid training to which he has been subjected, he has developed into a good man at right guard, and seldom fails to open a hole in the line when one is needed.

Guy Millikan, of old Randolph, which has furnished the State with so many athletes, plays at left half-back. He is one of the men upon whom devolves the responsibility of advancing the ball. He knows when his number is called in the signals and his 170 pounds avoirdupoise is of no small help in assisting him to gain the desired advance.

Charles Morton, of Greensboro, is the supply quarter-back, whose cool head-work counts so much. He is a thorough success as a football man, and is a great favorite among the boys. He is the wag of the team.

R. T. Cox, of Goldsboro, is the center rush. He puts the ball in play with great steadiness and knows well the art of holding his man in check. Look for the man with the sky-blue eyes, if you wish to locate Cox.

Ernest Love, of Greensboro, who will play behind the line, is the hardest man on the team to down, although he is the smallest. He is the quickest, swiftest man in college, and when he once starts up the field with the ball his running is an exhilarating sight, for like John of old, he driveth furiously.

Harry Daniels, at full back, has made a good record this season, and we may expect substantial gains from him on Thursday. He may be distinguished at a distance by the leather hood he wears over his head. His weight is 163 pounds.

J Carl Hill, the manager, is a most enthusiastic devotee to the game on the gridiron. Hill hails from Randolph and all who are acquainted with athletics at Guilford of recent years are familiar with the name of Carl Hill, the football man. His weight is something over 150 pounds.

Elmer Leak, of Greensboro, has developed rapidly as a football player, and in the game with Bingham showed very superior powers as a runner with the ball. His blocking also is excellent.

A number of players will be on the side lines, ready to take the places of any men who may need to retire from exhaustion.

Guilford and Oak Ridge have not played football since '93, when Guilford was victorious by a score of 10 to 6.

Each team is expecting to win and with the best good feeling is coming to prove the fact to the other.

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bound hand and foot for yeasr by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. Geo. D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says "My wife has been been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle-working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, rundown people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

WATER AFTER THE SODA.

Desire for a Drink Is Proof That the Sweet Stuff Does Not Quench Thirst.

"Will you have a glass of water after your ice cream soda, lady?" said the clerk at the soda fountain, according to the Chicago Tribune.

"If you please," answered the customer. "The water takes the sweet taste out of my mouth."

"Do you know," resumed the clerk to his confidant as the woman moved away, "I can't afford to knock my own business, but I would like to tell that woman and hundreds like her that the drink she ought to have had in the first place was water. If she had taken a drink of cool water before swallowing that mixture of sirup, charged water and ice cream her thirst would have been satisfied. But she wanted ice cream soda. She got it and then she was obliged to drink water to wash the other stuff out of her throat. Did you ever hear what the soda water clerks call that glass of water? We call it the 'bath.' It's the 'chaser' of the soda water fountain. Down in New York the boys have rechristened the drink we sell here as a 'Sunday,' ice cream drenched with some crushed fruit. They call it the 'dope,' and the name just about hits it. I tell you we're getting a new language behind the soda water counter. Cherry Sunday, did you say, madam?"

Prehistoric Race in Alaska.

The first authentic discovery of traces of a prehistoric race in Alaska was made recently by prospectors in the foothills of Mount St. Elias, who, in prospecting for placer diggings, discovered a copper mine which had been worked ages ago. In the immediate vicinity were picked up kettles, tools, spearheads and other articles of practical use, manufactured in a crude manner out of copper. It is evident that the copper came from three of the four veins in the immediate vicinity. The spot where the discovery was made is 6,000 feet above sea level, in the foothills of the mountain peak.
